

My Super
Self!

Introduction

On the first day back, the children will bring to school their paper bags filled with four things that describe them. It might be a hobby they have, a special item of clothing or something they wear when they are doing something that they enjoy. For example, if they like painting they may include an apron or if they attend ballet, they may bring in a leotard. During the first day back we will have a special show and tell session, where each child can share their bag of objects and talk about why they are special.

During the term we will visit the National Portrait Gallery to find out about and explore portraits.

The term will end with a Thoroughly Thrilling Thursday event where parents and carers can

Learning Overview

Throughout the term, children will learn about themselves. They will find clues about a mysterious person and through a series of challenges they will find out more about themselves. The children will learn how everyone is different and they will explore their 'super self', learning about what makes them special and unique.

As scientists, they will learn about the human body and they will explore and investigate different types of animals. As geographers, they will learn about their school environment and the local area. They will think about where they live and create maps of the school and local area.

As writers they will use adjectives to describe characters and talk about
